Berlin in Depth

Featuring 9 nights in a prestigious, centrally located 5 star deluxe hotel

11 days, Thursday, June 6, to Sunday, June 16, 2019

The booming capital of reunified Germany and one of Europe's most dynamic and exciting cities, Berlin is definitely "worth the journey", as the locals proudly like to say, especially in the spring. Berlin features spectacular architecture, absolutely fabulous museums (such as the Pergamon Museum), fascinating history, superb music, and unexpectedly good food. This surprisingly inexpensive metropolis will be explored on foot, by bus and by subway from our base in one of the city's finest hotels, the 5-star/deluxe Bristol, situated in the pulsating heart of the city, on the legendary Kurfuerstendamm Avenue. This tour is limited to 20 participants, able and willing to walk quite a bit, and will be escorted by historian and Germany-expert Jacques R. Pauwels, PhD, author of 'The Myth of the Good War,' 'The Great Class War 1914-1918,' and 'Big Business and Hitler,' all published recently by James Lorimer, Toronto.

Tour costs based on double occupancy including return flight from Toronto and all airport taxes/fees: $3,775 CAD
Land only: $2,675      Supplement for single use of a double room: $685

PROPOSED ITINERARY

Day 1 - Thursday, June 6: Evening departure from Toronto on Air Canada's non-stop flight to Berlin. Dinner and a light breakfast will be served on board.

Day 2 - Friday June 7: Mid-morning arrival at Berlin Tegel Airport. A private coach will be waiting to take us on a leisurely panoramic tour, focusing on former East Berlin, with major squares and avenues such as Alexanderplatz and Karl-Marx Avenue; the East Side Gallery, a collection of about 100 works of art painted directly on a preserved section of the Berlin Wall (www.eastsidegallery-berlin.com); and the huge Soviet War Memorial in Treptow Park. Around noon, arrival at the five-star/deluxe Hotel Bristol, ideally situated in the heart of what used to be “West Berlin,” right on the Kurfürstendamm Boulevard. Check in, and free time to settle in and get some rest; you may want to try out the hotel’s indoor pool, spa, and/or fitness club, facilities free of charge to guests; complimentary wifi is available in the rooms. In late afternoon, short introductory walk along the lively “Ku’damm” with its elegant shops, hotels, restaurants, and interesting sights such as the Emperor William Memorial Church, followed by dinner in one of the restaurants of our hotel.

OUR HOTEL: THE 5-STAR/DELUXE BRISTOL (FORMERLY KEMPINSKI BRISTOL)*******

The Bristol, is a five-star, i.e. “deluxe” establishment in the traditional continental style. It was founded in 1918, destroyed during WW II, rebuilt in 1951, and totally renovated in 2006. For decades it enjoyed the status of the sole luxury hotel in Berlin and it continues to be one of the finest hotels in the city. The hotel was originally named Kempinski after the original Jewish owners, who were expropriated by the Nazis; some family members left Germany, others stayed and perished in the Holocaust. There are three fine restaurants on the premises, including the gourmet Bristol Grill and Reinhard's, a bistro featuring a terrace and sidewalk café overlooking the Kurfürstendamm. The hotel also has a classy but cozy bar as well as a spa with a heated indoor pool, sauna, and fitness facilities. The rooms feature all the usual amenities, including a hair dryer, a safe, and a mini-bar. Past guests include Sophia Loren, the Dalai Lama, Michael Gorbachov, Mick Jagger, and Fidel Castro. The location is superb: on the corner of the world-famous Kurfuerstendamm, Berlin’s answer to the Champs Elysées or Fifth Avenue, and the elegant and interesting Fasanenstrasse, in other words, in the heart of what used to be “West Berlin,” very close to the Zoo Railway Station and the Emperor William Memorial Church. There are countless bars, restaurants, and shops in the vicinity, and department stores like the amazing KaDeWe. The hotel’s website is: <https://www.bristolberlin.com/en>

Day 3 - Saturday, June 8: This morning, after a generous buffet breakfast, you will receive a pass for unlimited use on the city’s excellent public transportation system, including the efficient subway, the so-called U-Bahn. We start today’s program with a bus ride and leisurely walk through the huge Tiergarten Park, with sights such as the Victory Column (Siegestsäule), Bellevue Palace, residence of the German president, the House of World Cultures, the Chancellor’s Office, and the Reichstag, the German Parliament; that imposing edifice was burned down at the time of the Nazi takeover and heavily damaged during the war; renovated in its entirety, the Reichstag now features an amazing glass cupola created by the famous architect Sir Norman Foster. On to the Brandenburg Gate, as emblematic of Berlin as the Eiffel Tower is of Paris. We end our walking tour at Paris Square, featuring famous buildings such as the French and US Embassies, the DZ-Bank (designed by Frank Gehry), and the prestigious historic Adlon Hotel.

One can return from here to the hotel by line bus, or stay for lunch in the area and visit the nearby Holocaust Memorial, virtually sitting on top of the underground bunker in which Hitler committed suicide!

This evening before dinner of Berliner specialties in a typical restaurant, you are invited to attend Jacques' lecture on the history of Germany in general, and Berlin in particular.

Day 4 - Sunday, June 9: We continue our exploration of this great city with a bus ride back to Paris Square. From here we cross into former East Berlin and stroll along the elegant Unter den Linden Boulevard past the monumental Russian Embassy to the city's historical heart, bursting with important sights: Humboldt University; the equestrian statue of Frederick the Great; the unusual memorial of the Nazi book burnings; the venerable old State Opera; the New Guardhouse (Neue Wache) with the moving war memorial designed by Käthe Kollwitz; the Arsenal (Zeughaus), now a museum of German history; the huge Lutheran Cathedral; the Pleasure Garden (Lustgarten); and Palace Square, where the former imperial palace is supposed to be rebuilt, etc. On to the statue of Marx and Engels, the charming old Nicolai District, and Berlin's old "Red City Hall." We finish at Alexander Platz, the heart of former East Berlin, and its 365-meter high TV-Tower. From here we return to our hotel via the S-Bahn, the excellent above-ground municipal and suburban railway system.

Day 5 - Monday, June 10: Morning excursion to the Prussian town of Potsdam, situated in an idyllic setting of forests and lakes on former East-German territory. Here we visit the Versailles-style palace of King Frederick the Great, Schloss Sanssouci, as well as the Cecilienhof villa, site of the 1945 Potsdam Conference. Group lunch in Potsdam. (For more information on Potsdam, see www.potsdam-tourism.com) Return to our hotel in Berlin via the notorious Glienicke Bridge, where captured spies used to be exchanged; the resort of Wannsee with its memories of the infamous conference of January 1942, where Himmler outlined Hitler's plans for the Holocaust; and the Olympic Stadium, venue of the 1936 Olympics. Afternoon at leisure. Today, group lunch in Potsdam OR dinner in Berlin.

Day 6 - Tuesday, June 11:
This morning we resume our exploration of Berlin, starting with a bus ride to Potsdamer Platz. Before the war this was the busiest intersection in Europe, but after 1945 it became a bombed-out wasteland bisected by die Mauer...The neighbourhood was revived in the 1990s as a dazzling complex of shops, restaurants, and the headquarters of Sony and other global corporations, featuring ultra-modern architecture by the likes of Renzo Piano. From here we stroll to the Wilhelmstrasse, once the nerve centre of Nazi power with buildings such as Göring's Air Ministry, which is still there; so are the ruins of the infamous Gestapo headquarters and prisons. On via a preserved piece of the Berlin Wall to Checkpoint Charlie, where tourists used to cross the Berlin franchise of the Iron Curtain. Nostalgic for the bad old days of the Cold War? Visit the museum Haus am Checkpoint Charlie! Continuing along the revived Friedrichstrasse, with its very high-end shops and department stores, we reach the trendy historic Gendarmenmarkt, a magnificent square featuring monuments such as the Berlin Konzerthaus with the statue of the poet Friedrich Schiller. You may want to stay in this attractive district for lunch and further exploration of this attractive district, enjoy a boat tour on the Spree River, or return by subway or bus to "West Berlin" in order to check out the fabulous department store KaDeWe, where the food section is claimed to be the world's finest... This evening, we attend a classical music concert, perhaps in the world-famous Berlin Philharmonic Hall.

Days 7, 8, and 9 - Wednesday, June 12, Thursday, June 13, and Friday, June 14: On Wednesday morning you will receive a 3-day Museum Pass, to be used during the next three days for visits to as many as 30 museums and monuments! (Many of these offer audio-systems, with explanation also in English.) After a general introduction to the Berlin museum scene, we travel by bus or subway to the so-called “Museum Island” in the historical city centre, “Berlin Mitte.” The greatest stars of the Berlin museums are concentrated here, including the fabulous Pergamon Museum, fabulous not only on account of the great Hellenistic Pergamon Altar but also other amazing monuments such as Babylon’s Ishtar Gate. (Please note that, on account of ongoing renovations, the hall containing the Pergamon Altar itself will still be closed to the public, but the wings with the other treasures, including the Ishtar Gate and the collection of Islamic Art, remain open to the public.) Another favourite is the New Museum, whose Egyptian Collection includes the world-famous Bust of Nefertiti, queen of the enigmatic Pharaoh Akhenaton! The Island features three more superb museums, which you may want to visit later: the Old Museum, which has a superb collection of Greco-Roman antiquities; the Old National Gallery, featuring 19th-century art, including French impressionists; and the Bode Museum, highlighting Byzantine and Renaissance art. (For more information on the museum pass, see <https://www.visitberlin.de/en/museums-museum-pass>)

On Thursday morning your guide will escort you to the Kulturforum, the cultural hub of the western part of the city, with prestigious institutions such as the new Berlin Philharmonie, the State Library, and - our objective this morning – the Gemäldegalerie, Berlin’s world-famous Picture Gallery, which features paintings from just about every style and period. Our visit may also include an opportunity to take an exclusive look at some famous lithographs and sketches by the likes of Dürer, Brueghel, and Rembrandt! For lunch we recommend the Picture Gallery’s excellent cafeteria. In the afternoon you may want to return to the museums of the Museum Island, or you can simply continue just next door to the New National Gallery, an architectural creation of Mies van der Rohe, bursting with 20th-century works of art by German and international artists such as Max Beckmann, Otto Dix, Paul Klee, George Grosz, Oskar Kokoschka, Edvard Munch, Pablo Picasso, George Braque, Juan Gris Emil Nolde. Henry Moore, Alexander Calder...On Friday morning your guide will lead the way to the suburb of Charlottenburg for visits to the small but exquisite Berggruen Picasso Collection and the Bröhan Museum of Jugendstil (Art Nouveau) decorative art. Afterwards you may want to cross the street and enjoy a stroll through the beautiful gardens of Charlottenburg Palace.

On these three days you may of course also simply do your own thing and visit any of the 50 museums covered by your museum pass at your leisure, such as such as the German Museum of Technology, the Jewish Museum (with Daniel Liebeskind’s fabulous architecture), or the Käthe Kollwitz Museum near our hotel. There will also be an opportunity to enjoy a grandiose show in the style of Cirque-du-Soleil at the impressive Friedrichstadt Palace Theatre; the price of this option will be approximately $80 Canadian. Tickets may also be available for operas and classical music concerts; more information about this will be made available in due course.

Day 10 - Saturday, June 15: Your last day in Berlin is entirely at leisure, except for this evening's Auf Wiedersehen dinner in a typical restaurant.

Day 11 - Sunday, June 16: After breakfast, transfer to Tegel Airport and non-stop return flight to Toronto with Air Canada, departing around noon and arriving at 3PM.

YOUR TOUR HOST:

Historian Jacques Pauwels will be your tour host. Jacques is a specialist in German history, having obtained his doctorate with a thesis on the Third Reich, and has published a number of books and articles on German history, including The Myth of the Good War, Big Business and Hitler, and The Great Class War 1914-1918 (all published recently by James Lorimer, Toronto, and translated into eight other languages). Some think his German jokes are pretty silly, but he has “vays” to make you laugh...

SOME COMMENTS ON PREVIOUS “BERLIN IN DEPTH” TOURS:

- "I enjoyed your tour to Berlin ... A well-planned tour, with an exceptional guide, Jacques Pauwels. One of the most interesting trips I have ever made. Berlin is a cosmopolitan city of beautiful parks and waterways, with fascinating architecture, lively town squares, fashionable boutiques, a wealth of art galleries and museums; a city which is easy to visit on foot and by public transport, a people who are welcoming and who have an interesting history and culture. In conclusion, a city I would return to visit anytime with great pleasure." (A. S., Ottawa, Ont.)

- "Thank you for making the trip so lively and informative. The depth of information and the effective presentations added immeasurably to my enjoyment of this visit to Berlin." (D. D., Arlington, Virginia)

- "We have appreciated the balance between guided tour and free time to explore and experience the city in our own way... [It was] such an enriching experience, including opera, theatre, and concert." (D. and O. L., Toronto, Ont.)

- "We certainly would include this tour among the best holiday trips that we have ever taken. The tour arrangements were great, including the hotel and meals and the well-organized day-trips.... We found Berlin to be a virtual walk-in encyclopedia of arts and architecture. We also found your daily ‘briefings’ on the history of Germany to be very helpful in filling in the gaps from our readings preparatory to the trip." (J. and E. S., Don Mills, Ont.)

- "Thanks so much for the fantastic Berlin trip. We fell in love with Berlin...Your accounts were exciting and so informative. You made history sing! What a great story teller you are. Homer had nothing on you." (M. J. and C. C., Cobourg, Ont.)

A WORD ABOUT GROUP AIRFARES:

Please note that when booking one of our air inclusive tours, Pauwels Travel has negotiated reduced rates with the airline that we are able to confirm and lock in up to 359 days before travel. While it is wonderful to share the savings and flexibility this provides with you, our valued guests, the privilege does come with some restrictions. In some cases it may not be possible to collect frequent flyer miles, you may not be able to check in online 24 hours before travel, or you may need to try checking in with your ticket number rather than your booking reference and, in almost ALL cases we are not able to offer advanced seat selection.

It is the airline that makes the reservation and has control over the booking so it is their policy, not ours, that prevents us from assigning specific seats. If a request is made, it is passed on to the airline by our staff when they submit the names to the airline, i.e., 30-60 days prior to departure. Calling us several days before you leave will not change this fact nor will getting upset with our staff.

If a certain type of seat is indispensable to you, we suggest that you book our tour on a "land only" basis and make individual flight arrangements, in which case you may be able to get the seat of your choice; Pauwels Travel would be happy to assist you with that reservation at absolutely no additional charge. We will offer you the best fare available, but please note that this can only be done once a tour is a guaranteed departure because your individual airfare's conditions are likely to involve cancellation penalties. We thank you in advance for your kind understanding of the above!
