BERLIN IN DEPTH

10 days, Monday, April 27, to Wednesday, May 5, 2026

Berlin, the booming capital of Germany and one of Europe's most dynamic and exciting cities, is definitely "worth the journey," as the locals proudly like to say. Berlin features spectacular architecture, absolutely fabulous museums, fascinating history, superb music, and unexpectedly good food. This surprisingly inexpensive metropolis will be explored on foot, by bus and by subway from our base in an excellent first-class hotel, situated in the pulsating heart of the city, on the legendary Kurfuerstendamm Avenue. This tour is limited to 15 participants, able and willing to walk quite a bit, and will be escorted by historian and Germany-expert Jacques R. Pauwels, PhD, author of 'The Myth of the Good War,' 'The Great Class War 1914-1918,' and 'Big Business and Hitler.' all published by James Lorimer, Toronto.

Tour Cost: $3,675 CAD*

Land Only, Based on Double Occupancy

Single Room Supplement: $950 CAD

PROPOSED ITINERARY

Tour participants need to book a flight arriving in Berlin on Monday, April 27, which typically requires a departure from Toronto or another Canadian/North American gateway the day before, i.e. Sunday, April 26. Please do not book flights until Pauwels Travel guarantees the departure, as a minimum of 12 participants is required to operate the tour. We will be happy to assist you with booking flights once the tour is guaranteed.

Day 1 - Monday April 27: Arrival in Berlin, where taxi and Uber services are available for the transfer to our hotel, the centrally located first-class/4-star Hotel Lindner. arrive at our hotel, the four-star/first-class Hotel Lindner Ku'damm, ideally situated in the heart of what used to be “West Berlin,” right on the most elegant stretch of the famous Kurfürstendamm Boulevard. Check in, and free time to settle in and get some rest after your overnight flight. In late afternoon, meet with your tour host and other tour members for an introductory briefing and short introductory walk along the lively “Ku'damm” with its elegant shops, restaurants, and interesting sights such as the Emperor William Memorial Church, followed by a welcome drink and dinner in a typical restaurant.

Day 2 - Tuesday, April 28: This morning, after breakfast, you will receive a pass for unlimited use on the city's excellent public transportation system, including the efficient subway, the so-called U-Bahn.

We start today's program with a bus ride and leisurely walk through the huge Tiergarten Park, Berlin's answer to New York's Central Park or London's Hyde Park, with sights such as the Victory Column (Siegestsäule), Bellevue Palace, residence of the German president, the House of World Cultures, the Chancellor's Office, and the Reichstag, the German Parliament; that imposing edifice was burned down at the time of the Nazi takeover and heavily damaged during the war; renovated in its entirety, the Reichstag now features an amazing glass cupola created by the famous architect Sir Norman Foster. On to the Brandenburg Gate, as emblematic of Berlin as the Eiffel Tower is of Paris. We end our walking tour at Pariser Platz (Paris Square), featuring famous buildings such as the French and US Embassies, the DZ-Bank (designed by Frank Gehry), and the prestigious historic Adlon Hotel, a favourite of politicians, journalists and spies in the Nazi era. We end today's sightseeing program with a visit to the nearby Holocaust Memorial, virtually sitting on top of the underground bunker in which Hitler committed suicide! Return to the hotel by city bus in late afternoon. Dinner in a typical restaurant.

THE FIRST-CLASS HOTEL LINDNER KU'DAMM

The Hotel Lindner Ku'damm Berlin is a first-class/four-star establishment and is part of the “Joie de Vivre” (JdV) collection of independent boutique hotels operated by Hyatt Hotels & Resorts. Its location is superb: on the most elegant and interesting stretch of the world-famous Kurfuerstendamm, Berlin's answer to the Champs Elysées and Fifth Avenue, in other words, in the heart of what used to be “West Berlin,” very close to the Zoo Railway Station and the Emperor William Memorial Church. There are countless bars, restaurants, and shops in the vicinity, and department stores like the amazing KaDeWe. Tripadvisor gives the Lindner Ku'damm a very respectable customer satisfaction rating of #72 out of no less than 605 hotels in Berlin. The hotel's website is:

Day 3 - Wednesday, April 29: We continue our exploration of this great city with a bus ride back to the Brandenburg Gate and Paris Square. We stroll along the elegant Unter den Linden Boulevard, via the Wilhelmstrasse, where Hitler's Reich Chancellery used to be located, and past the monumental Russian embassy, to the city's historical cradle, bursting with important sights: Humboldt University; the equestrian statue of Frederick the Great; the unusual memorial of the Nazi book burnings; the venerable old State Opera; the New Guardhouse (Neue Wache) with the moving war memorial designed by Käthe Kollwitz; the Arsenal (Zeughaus), now a museum of German history; the huge Lutheran Cathedral; the Pleasure Garden (Lustgarten); and Palace Square, where the former imperial Schloss (palace) has recently risen from its ashes. On to the statue of Marx and Engels, the charming old Nicolai District, and Berlin's old "Red City Hall." We finish at Alexander Platz, the previously mentioned heart of former East Berlin, and its 365-meter-high TV-Tower. From here we return to our hotel via the S-Bahn, the excellent above-ground municipal and suburban railway system. A classical music concert is on our program for this evening,

Day 4 - Thursday, April 30: This morning you will receive a Museum Pass, to be used during the next three days for visits to over 30 museums and monuments! (Many of these offer audio-systems, with explanation also in English; with the pass, you also avoid any lineups at the entrances.) After a general introduction to the Berlin museum scene, we travel by bus or subway to the so-called Museum Island in the historical city centre. The greatest stars of the Berlin museums are concentrated here, including the Old Museum, bursting with Greco-Roman antiquities; the New Museum, whose Egyptian Collection includes the world-famous Bust of Nefertiti, queen of the enigmatic Pharaoh Akhenaton; the Old National Gallery, focusing on 19th-century art, including French impressionists; the Bode Museum, highlighting Byzantine and Renaissance art. The Pergamon Museum, fabulous not only on account of the great Hellenistic Pergamon Altar but also other amazing monuments such as Babylon's Ishtar Gate, is also located here but is unfortunately closed for major renovations until 2027.

Day 5 - Friday, May 1: After breakfast, your guide will escort you to the Kulturforum, the cultural hub of the western part of the city, with prestigious institutions such as the new Berlin Philharmonic Hall and - our objective this morning - the Gemäldegalerie, Berlin's world-famous Picture Gallery, which features paintings from just about every style and period. Our visit may also include an opportunity to take an exclusive look at some famous lithographs and sketches by the likes of Dürer, Brueghel, and Rembrandt! For lunch we recommend the Picture Gallery's excellent cafeteria. In the afternoon you may want to explore one or both of the two fabulous institutions just next door, the Museum of Decorative Arts (Kunstgewerbemuseum), and the New National Gallery, an architectural creation of Mies van der Rohe, bursting with 20th-century works of art by German and international artists such as Max Beckmann, Otto Dix, Paul Klee, George Grosz, Oskar Kokoschka, Edvard Munch, Pablo Picasso, George Braque, Juan Gris Emil Nolde. Henry Moore, Alexander Calder... Other options include returning to the museums of the Museum Island and heading for one of the many other museums covered by your museum pass!

Day 6 – Saturday, May 2: After breakfast, visit to the German Historical Museum, located in two architecturally remarkable buildings, the historic Arsenal (Zeughaus), and , which is being renovated for the next few years, and the modern exhibition hall by world-famous Chinese-American architect I.M. Pei. The rest of the day is free to explore the German capital on your own. How about a boat tour on the Spree River or a visit to the Reichstag, where you can enjoy a fabulous panoramic view of the city from the glass dome designed by another great architect, Sir Norman Foster, and perhaps stay for lunch in its rooftop restaurant?

Day 7 – Sunday, May 3: Full-day excursion by private coach to the Prussian town of Potsdam, situated in an idyllic setting of forests and lakes on former East-German territory, for visits to the Versailles-style palace of King Frederick the Great, Schloss Sanssouci, as well as the Cecilienhof villa, site of the 1945 Potsdam Conference. On the way to Potsdam, we will view the Olympic Stadium, venue of the 1936 Olympics, cross the resort of Wannsee with its memories of the infamous conference of January 1942, where Himmler outlined Hitler's plans for the Holocaust, and stop to photograph the notorious Glienicke Bridge, where captured spies used to be exchanged. After our visits in Potsdam, we head for the Berlin suburb of Karlshorst for a visit to the building that served as HQ to Marshal Zhukov during the last days of WW II and hosted the final and unconditional German capitulation on May 8, 1945, it is now the German-Russian Museum Berlin-Karlshorst. The return to our hotel takes us through the heart of former East Berlin, featuring sights such as the picturesque Oberbaum Bridge across the Spree River; the East Side Gallery, a of about 100 works of art painted directly on a preserved section of the Berlin Wall; the long boulevard known as Karl-Marx Avenue but formerly named after Stalin; and Alexanderplatz, formerly the beating heart of East Berlin. Time permitting, we will also briefly stop to view the huge Soviet War Memorial in Treptow Park. Today, group lunch in Potsdam OR dinner in Berlin.

Day 8 – Monday, May 3: This morning we start with a bus ride to Potsdamer Platz. Before the war this was the busiest intersection in Europe, but after 1945 it became a bombed-out wasteland bisected by die Mauer, the Wall...The neighbourhood was revived in the 1990s as a dazzling complex of shops, restaurants, and the headquarters of Sony and other global corporations, featuring ultra-modern architecture by the likes of Renzo Piano. From here we stroll to the Wilhelmstrasse, once the nerve centre of Nazi power with buildings such as Göring's Air Ministry, which is still there; so are the ruins of the infamous Gestapo headquarters and prisons. On via a preserved piece of the Berlin Wall to Checkpoint Charlie, where tourists used to cross the Berlin franchise of the Iron Curtain. Nostalgic for the bad old days of the Cold War? Visit the museum Haus am Checkpoint Charlie! Continuing along the revived Friedrichstrasse, with its very high-end shops and department stores, we reach the trendy historic Gendarmenmarkt, a magnificent square featuring monuments such as the Berlin Konzerthaus with the statue of the poet Friedrich Schiller. You may want to stay in this attractive district for lunch and further exploration, enjoy a boat tour on the Spree River, or return by subway or bus to "West Berlin" to check out the fabulous department store KaDeWe, where the food section is claimed to be the world's finest!

SOME COMMENTS ON PREVIOUS “BERLIN IN DEPTH” TOURS:

- "I enjoyed your tour to Berlin ... A well-planned tour, with an exceptional guide, Jacques Pauwels. One of the most interesting trips I have ever made. Berlin is a cosmopolitan city of beautiful parks and waterways, with fascinating architecture, lively town squares, fashionable boutiques, a wealth of art galleries and museums; a city which is easy to visit on foot and by public transport, a people who are welcoming and who have an interesting history and culture. In conclusion, a city I would return to visit anytime with great pleasure." (A. S., Ottawa, Ont.)
- "Thank you for making the trip so lively and informative. The depth of information and the effective presentations added immeasurably to my enjoyment of this visit to Berlin." (D. D., Arlington, Virginia)
- "We have appreciated the balance between guided tour and free time to explore and experience the city in our own way... [It was] such an enriching experience, including opera, theatre, and concert." (D. and O. L., Toronto, Ont.)
- "We certainly would include this tour among the best holiday trips that we have ever taken. The tour arrangements were great, including the hotel and meals and the well-organized day-trips.... We found Berlin to be a virtual walk-in encyclopedia of arts and architecture. We also found your daily 'briefings' on the history of Germany to be very helpful in filling in the gaps from our readings preparatory to the trip." (J. and E. S., Don Mills, Ont.)
- "Thanks so much for the fantastic Berlin trip. We fell in love with Berlin... Your accounts were exciting and so informative. You made history sing! What a great storyteller you are. Homer had nothing on you." (M. J. and C. C., Cobourg, Ont.)

A WORD ABOUT GROUP AIRFARES

Please note that when booking one of our air-inclusive tours, Pauwels Travel has negotiated reduced rates with the airline that we are able to confirm and lock in up to 359 days before travel. While it is wonderful to share the savings and flexibility this provides with you, our valued guests, the privilege does come with some restrictions. In some cases, it may not be possible to collect frequent flyer miles, you may not be able to check in online 24 hours before travel, or you may need to try checking in with your ticket number rather than your booking reference. Additionally, most airlines do not allow advanced seat-selection on group airfares. It is the airline's policy, not ours, that prevents us from assigning specific seats. If a request is made, it is passed on to the airline by our staff when they submit the names to the airline 60 days prior to departure but no requests are guaranteed. Our staff will not be able to aid in advanced seat selection if the airline does not allow it on the group airfare. If a certain type of seat is indispensable to you, we suggest that you book our tour on a "land only" basis and make individual flight arrangements, in which case you may be able to get the seat of your choice; Pauwels Travel would be happy to assist you with that reservation. We will offer you the best fare available, but please note that this can only be done once a tour is a guaranteed departure because individual airfare conditions are stricter than the conditions of the group airfare rate. We thank you in advance for your kind understanding of the above!
